PHARMACISTS WANT MORE UNIFORM LAW

Association Will Present Amended Bill to General Assembly.

MUCH WORK AT CONVENTION

President Hamner Recommends a Resolution Against the Parole Post.

Members of the Virginia Pharmaceutical Association, from all parts of the State, were present yesterday when the twenty-sixth annual meeting of the association was called to order at Lee Camp Hall by President E. C. Hamner, of Lynchburg. The convention will be in session to-day and part of to-morrow, closing with a banquet at the Jefferson Hotel in the evening. Representatives from the State of Maryland, the District of Columbia, the Rhode Island and Massachusetts associations will arrive here to-day by steamer from Norfolk. They will be entertained and will attend the business meetings.

The meeting yesterday covered a wide range, but the matter of most importance to the pharmacists—the enactment of a more uniform law—will be considered to-day. The General Assembly will be urged to make changes in the present statute, which will give the pharmacist a fairer show and protect them against the quacks.

In his annual report, President Hamner called attention to the importance of this, and later it was freely discussed by leading members of the association. He showed that the law as it exists to-day was unsatisfactory. Closer affiliation with the national association was likewise urged. President Hamner recommended that a resolution be adopted opposing the parole post proposition.

Association Is Growing. George T. Gray, of Norfolk, Thomas W. Purcell, of Lee, and Lee Powell, of Richmond, delegates from the national association of pharmacists, were introduced to the convention.

Secretary C. B. Fleet, of Lynchburg, reported 204 active members of the association. At the meeting yesterday the executive committee passed favorably upon thirty-one applications, and others will be received to-day. The treasurer's books show a balance in the bank.

Secretary Fleet recommended the quarterly publication of a news sheet dealing with pharmaceutical changes, together with other information of value to members.

Won't Change Constitution. By a decisive vote the convention rejected the proposition providing for changes in the constitution, whereby all pharmacists in the State should be taken in as active and associate members. This question was provocative of much debate during the afternoon, but it was overwhelmingly defeated.

Mr. T. A. Miller suggested that the association should consider the question of an early and uniform closing hour for drug stores. He contended that the present hours were hard and unnecessary, and that the interests of the public could be served equally as well by another system. No action, however, was taken.

After Better Laws. Practically all of the afternoon was devoted to a discussion of the proposed bill which will go before the next Legislature. The law existing to-day, it is claimed, discriminates against the druggists, and as one member expressed it, "We don't want to be the scapegoats of country merchants and irresponsible persons."

Nothing was decided finally, and the bill will have further consideration to-day.

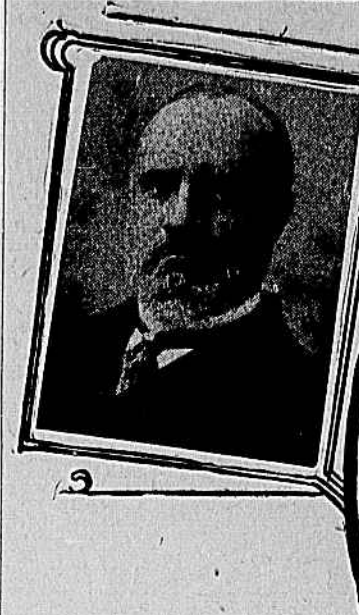

Dr. W. B. Williams, of Charlotte Courthouse, made a report as to the recent address to the pharmacists, urging them to join the association. As a result of this many new names were proposed. President Hamner referred feelingly to the death of former President T. Roberts Baker, of Richmond.

WILL HOLD GREAT PUBLIC MEETINGS

Programs for Several Big Gatherings, With Noted Speakers at Auditorium.

MEN'S THANK OFFERING

Promises to Be Sensational Feature of Convention to Begin Here Next Week.

Several great popular mass meetings will be held during the Episcopal General Convention in Richmond, and the City Auditorium will be used on occasions when a consecrated church is not required by the nature of the service, and when the public attendance and interest requires a seating capacity greater than that of any Episcopal house of worship in the city.

The opening exercises of the convention will take place at 11 A. M. on October 24, in Holy Trinity, the processional and recessional at this service being, perhaps, the most spectacular sights in the Episcopal Church. The bishops, Auxiliary members of the Woman's Auxiliary and distinguished visitors will entirely take up the seating capacity of the church, and under the instructions of the Rev. Samuel Hart, D. D., secretary of the House of Bishops, will insist on a strict compliance with the regulations as to overcrowding. The police will also see that the streets are kept clear in front of the church, so that there may be no accident or interruption to witness the procession of bishops in their robes enter the church will probably be kept back to the line of Monroe Park, allowing passage for the cars in front, along Laurel Street.

Great Mass Meetings.

The first opportunity offered to the general public of hearing the Bishop of London speak will be at the great historical mass meeting held on the evening of October 4th in the City Auditorium, where the admission will be public. The address will be by Bishop Randolph of the Diocese of Southern Virginia.

The first missionary mass-meeting is scheduled for the evening of October 7th. The Bishop of Virginia will be in the chair. All the great addresses planned for are "The Church's Work in the Land of the Midnight Sun," by Archbishop Stuck; "China's Call to the West," by Bishop Root; "What Christian Missions Are Doing in Japan," by Bishop Partridge; and "The Christian's Duty in the Threshold of Asia," by Bishop Brent.

The second mass-meeting, on the evening of October 17th, will have Bishop Tuttle as its presiding officer, with addresses by Bishop Spalding on "The Church's Work in the Arctic and the Tropics," by the Bishop of England in "Where East and West Meet at the Crossroads of the Pacific," and by the Rev. Dr. Brown on "The Church's Contribution to a South American Republic."

Both of these great missionary mass-meetings take place in the City Auditorium, and judging from the prominence of the speakers, the attendance will tax the capacity of the buildings.

Men's Thank Offering.

Another great popular occasion, which will have some spectacular features, will be on October 9th, the day given up to the presentation of the men's thank offering. The services in connection with the thank offering take up the whole day, beginning at 7:30 A. M., with the celebration of the Eucharist, and the offering is presented by the chairman of the committee from each diocese.

That afternoon there is a special missionary session of the General Convention, and in the evening at the City Auditorium the men's thank offering service. The addresses will be by Bishops Greer, Peterkin and Randolph, and Messrs. George Wharton Pepper and George C. Thomas. At the close of the service an announcement will be made of the amount contributed by dioceses, and the total contribution of the church at large. The men's thank offering for missions has been collected during the past three years, and great interest has been manifested in all parts of the church. It is designed as a memorial fund offered in recognition of the three-hundredth anniversary of the founding of the church on American soil, and of three hundred years of prosperity. It is impossible to estimate what the amount of the thank offering will be, as the committee in each diocese is keeping its own counsel, and no attempt has been made to tabulate the whole. When the total is presented, however, it is believed that it will result in a large sum of money, possibly somewhere in the neighborhood of a million dollars. Although the men's thank offering has been three years in reaching its final proportion, and representing the activity of the laymen of the American Church, its presentation and the announcement by the committee of the grand total will make it perhaps

No Tickets for Public

Rev. William M. Clark, chairman of the committee of arrangements for the Episcopal General Convention, wishes it distinctly known that he has nothing whatever to do with the distribution of tickets of admission for the opening sessions of the General Convention at Holy Trinity Church, and that it will be impossible to furnish tickets to any persons not officially entitled to them.

The largest collection taken at a single service in the history of Christendom.

Under the missionary canon adopted at Boston in 1894, there will be no meeting during the General Convention of the body known for several years as the Board of Missions. What is now known as the Board of Missions was formerly known as the Board of Managers. All matters of missionary concern requiring legislative action are to come before the two houses of the convention separately, in just the same way as all other business comes before them. For the purpose, however, of receiving reports from the Board of Missions and from the missionary leaders of the church at home and abroad, the canon provides for joint sessions of the two houses. At the Boston convention a committee of two bishops, two other clergymen and two laymen was appointed to act with the officers of the Board of Missions in preparing a program for such joint meetings of the House of Bishops and the House of Deputies. The committee has the honor of public missionary mass meetings during the three weeks of the convention session. The plans made by the committee for the joint session of the two houses are subject to modification at the discretion of the convention. The committee presents its report in Richmond.

Though detailed information is not available at this time, it may be said in general that the committee is planning to follow the plans which proved successful at the Boston convention. In addition to the one missionary day provided for by canon, and falling this year on Friday, October 4th, the General Convention will be asked to set apart four other afternoon sessions.

Church Extension.

At these times it is proposed to lay before the convention, so far as may be possible, a full statement of the needs, conditions, and opportunities for church extension throughout the field. On the morning of the first day, in accordance with long-established custom, the Board of Missions will present its triennial report. The treasurer will review the financial aspects of the work and present his report for the last fiscal year. The deputation to the missions abroad will also be heard at this time. During the afternoon it will be the duty of the convention to consider the report of the committee on church extension, and the convention will be directed to the responsibility of the church for an aggressive policy in this country. Addresses are planned for upon the church's duty to the American people in the Northwest, the Middle West, the great prairie States, and the Southern mountains. On October 14th, if the General Convention adopts the plan of the committee, three of the bishops from the Asiatic field will be asked to answer the question: "What is the Definite Responsibility of the American Church to the Far East?" The afternoon of Thursday, October 10th, it is planned to give to a consideration of "The Church in Other American Republics." On October 14th the church's work on behalf of the Indians, the negroes in America, and the West Africans is to be considered. The last afternoon session will hear of "The Church's Work in the Arctic and the Tropics."

Bishop Kinsolving, of Southern Brazil, has accepted the committee's invitation to preach the triennial sermon before the Board of Missions at St. Paul's Church on the evening of Sunday, October 6th.

Diocesan Secretaries' League. Among the side meetings of the General Convention will be that of the Diocesan Secretaries' League in the parish church of Holy Trinity Church, on Thursday evening, October 24, at 8 o'clock. Every diocesan secretary and assistant secretary is eligible to membership in the Diocesan Secretaries' League, and is invited to be present at this meeting. A program has been arranged as follows:

1. Opening prayer, the president, Rev. H. C. Duncan, D. D., of Louisiana; 2. Greeting, the Rev. Everett Meade, of Virginia; Response, the Rev. R. D. Rolfe, D. D., of West Virginia; 3. The reading of the minutes and the election of officers; 4. Papers, the Rev. E. W. Harriman, D. D., of Connecticut; the Rev. Everett Meade, of Virginia; the Rev. Thomas J. Garland, of Pennsylvania; 5. Discussion and general business.

This is the third conference of the Diocesan Secretaries' League. The first was held in Boston in 1904, under the hospitable arrangements of the Rev. Dr. Worcester; the second in Philadelphia, in May, 1906, with the Rev. Thomas J. Garland.

Negroes Fined. Cornelius Branch and Douglas Taylor, both colored, were charged in the Police Court yesterday morning with being disorderly, and were fined $10. The two men were placed under arrest by Policemen Phil Neitz.

MIDWAY TO BE MORAL, SAYS MORGAN MILLS

Fake and Questionable Attractions Will Not Be Tolerated.

HINDOO LADY IS NETTLED

Many Excellent Features Arranged for Great State Fair Here.

With many big attractions and a fine clean, moral Midway, the State Fair workers are preparing for a program which will draw and delight thousands to Richmond next month. The grounds are being put in excellent shape. There will be about forty running and fifteen trotting races, which will bring a large number of horses here, and in every department the idea is to present something just a little bit better than anything provided heretofore.

When the crowds are coming to be amused they naturally want to know about the Midway. Mr. Morgan R. Mills, in charge of the concessions, says it will be "all to the mustard," or words to that effect. "It will be funny, of course," said Mr. Mills, "but it will be elevating, our plan being to keep out every feature which might offend the most fastidious. About one hundred letters are received daily, and from this mass of applicants we are picking those to add to rather than detract from the general program. We want to make the Midway a resort where everybody can go and laugh, without one word of complaint from a single visitor."

A Hindoo lady, who can shut her eyes and look into the future, revealing facts which she says are startlingly true, called on Mr. Mills yesterday. She wanted to read his palm, but there was nothing doing.

"I can give you a horoscope," she said, "that can tell you exactly what kind of weather will be furnished for your week, or I can tell you other things."

"Well, we have a first-class Weather Bureau to do that," said the head man of the concession department.

The Hindoo lady, getting down to business, asked the agent she would be charged to perform. She got a figure.

Revival Services.

A series of revival services began last night at Clay Street Methodist Church, Adams and Gray Streets. The pastor, the Rev. T. McN. Stimpert, being assisted by the Rev. A. H. S. Burg, of Georgia, who will preach each evening this week at 8 o'clock.

Beginning on Wednesday evening, the church will have the service of the orchestra to furnish special music at each meeting.

Miss Pearl Virginia Briggs.

Miss Pearl Virginia Briggs died Sunday at the home of her parents, 808 North Sixth Street.

The funeral will take place this afternoon from the First Baptist Church.

COMMON SENSE

Less most intelligent people to use only medicines of known composition. Therefore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, the makers of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrapper, are daily growing in favor. The composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to everybody. Dr. Pierce being desirous of having the search light of investigation turned fully upon his formula, being confident that the better the composition of these medicines is known the more will they create curative merits be recognized. Being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from nature's forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, triple-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on their bottle wrappers—the same as sworn to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find that his "Golden Medical Discovery," the great blood-purifier, stomach tonic and bowel regulator—the medicine which, while not recommended to our consumption in its advanced stages (no medicine will do that) yet does cure all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, torpid liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs, forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, triple-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs.
